DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: Disclosure has numerous errors. For example page 6 lines 3-8, pawns are wrongly characterized as 104. Entire disclosure requires reviewing and correction. Also the terminology between claims and specification should be consistent for definiteness.

Appropriate correction is required.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the random number generator must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement

Art Unit: 3712

Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 8-13 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In the absence of proper environment/apparatus and proper sequential method steps it is not possible to practice a method. It is not clear what playing method is being claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-7 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Small (3892408) in view of Ex.parte Breslow 192 USPQ 431.

Small teaches a game board with spaces and indicia on spaces (dollar amounts printed on spaces), game chips (Fig.8) also printed with dollar figures on them, pawns and markers with indicia (Fig.3-4), decks of cards (Fig.6-7) with cards having indicia that can be interpreted as pranks/numbers (T9, R6) and instructions (80), random number generator (Fig.1), portals (four corners of board), four sets of two rows of spaces as pascal triangle.

The only difference between cited game and applicant's game resides in meaning and information conveyed by the printed matter on cards is not considered as patentable difference Ex. Parte Breslow 192 USPQ 431.

The only difference between cited cards and applicant's cards resides in meaning and information of pranks and instructions conveyed by the printed matter is not considered patentable.

One of ordinary skill in art at the time the invention was made would have suggested placed any prank/instruction on cards to attract players.

Further limitations such as chips, pawns and markers are open to broad interpretations.

7. Claims 8, 9,12,13 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ludwick (4938482).

Ludwick teaches a player landing and collecting points (3:51-52), redeeming points for playing pieces (4:17-18).

Ludwick teaches all limitations except that it does not teach redeeming points for cards. In order to make the game interesting, it would have been obvious to make variations in awards. One of ordinary skill in art at the time the invention was made would have suggested awarding cards for accumulating certain points.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 10-11 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
